

THE MECHANICAL MIND

An emotionally immersive sonic project blending analog texture, digital decay, and lyrical rawness.

The Mechanical Mind is the genre-defying music project of Simon Jacobsohn — a composer, producer, and visual artist whose work explores the tension between vulnerability and digital decay. With a sonic palette that shifts from haunting ambient textures to industrial aggression, from experimental jazz fusion to minimalist piano ballads, The Mechanical Mind invites listeners into immersive soundscapes that challenge, comfort, and captivate.

Drawing influence from artists like Aphex Twin (ambient side), Nine Inch Nails, Depeche Mode, and Eno, Jacobsohn's compositions blend analog warmth with glitch-driven edges. Each piece is emotionally rooted and meticulously constructed, often telling stories of identity, memory, collapse, and resilience.

The project is currently represented across five curated playlists, each reflecting a key dimension of the sound:
